

Meet the new Cornwall and the Counties Community Futures
Development Corporation:

ACC Futures

Your Potential is Our Business

Since our formation in 1987, Cornwall and the Counties Community Futures Development Corporation has been growing and evolving to meet our communities' needs.

In our vision for a stronger economy and community, we wanted to expand our name and brand to include each area we serve: Cornwall, the Counties, and the Akwesasne First Nation. As part of this vision, we also wanted to develop a brand specific to our commitment to true reconciliation and economic partnership projects that benefit both Indigenous and non-Indigenous communities.

Today, our work and services expand beyond the scope of Federal funding for the region. We are a go-to solution for delivering community economic development supports. And, with our management of the Port Lands, our development of Community Profiles and Community Engagement Guides, as well as the execution of a number of Cultural Sensitivity and Awareness Training Programs, our social enterprise consulting arm continues to grow.

With all these changes, it was time for a new name and new look. One that really tells our story and the stories of our clients.
